2. It is agreed by and between the parties that any provision of this Agreement requiring legislative action to permit its implementation by amendment of law or by providing the additional funds therefore shall not become effective until the appropriate legislative body has given approval.

Article IX Rights and Responsibilities of the Parties

1. Rights and Responsibilities of SUNY Rockland Community College
 - a. Nothing in this Agreement shall be construed as delegating the authority conferred by law on any elected official, the Board of Trustees and Executive Officers of SUNY Rockland Community College or in any way to reduce or abridge such authority.
 - b. The rights and responsibilities of SUNY Rockland Community College include, but are not necessarily limited to, the following to the extent that the same are consistent with the terms of this Agreement:
 - (1) To determine the standards of service to be offered by its offices, agencies and departments;
 - (2) To direct employees of the College;

 - b. The Federation has the right to represent all employees in the negotiating unit on any

However, nothing in this agreement shall be construed as to preclude any employee, regardless of employee organization membership, from bringing matters of personal concern directly to the attention of the College in accordance with applicable law, rules and/or regulations having the force and effect of law or pursuant to the established policy of the appointing authority.

- c. The Federation has the right either as a representative of any employee or as an observer to have at least one but no more than two individuals present at all grievance or appeal hearings involving an employee who is determined to be in the negotiating unit. Article XII Academic Freedom

Each Faculty member covered by this agreement shall be entitled to full academic freedom as defined and may not be disciplined or discharged for conduct falling within the definition of academic freedom. The full definition is as follows:

1. The Faculty member is entitled to full freedom in research and in the publication of the results, subject to the adequate performance of their other academic duties, but research for pecuniary return should be based upon an understanding with the authorities of the institution.
2. The Faculty member is entitled to freedom in the classroom in discussing their subject, but they should be careful not to introduce in their teaching controversial matter, which has no relation to their subject. Limitations of academic freedom because of religious or other aims of the institution should be clearly stated in writing at the time of the appointment.

3. The college or university Faculty is a citizen, a member of a learned profession, and an officer of an educational institution. When they speak or write as a citizen, they should be free from institutional censorship or discipline, but their special position in the community imposes special obligations. As scholars and educational officers they should remember that the public may judge their profession and their institution by their utterances. Hence, they should at all times be accurate, should exercise appropriate restraint, should show respect for the opinion of others, and should make every effort to indicate that they are not speaking for the institution.

Article XIII Faculty Responsibilities

1. Teaching Faculty has the primary responsibility of teaching and assessing student learning. The full range of their teaching duties includes: preparation and delivery of lectures, labs, or other learning activities, lesson assignments, reading lists, study materials, tests, and examinations; providing students with adequate and timely feedback during a course; keeping and posting of regular office hours (or by appointment, as necessary); advising students; supervising applied learning activities or internships; reporting all student grades promptly; improving pedagogy and discipline-specific content through professional development; undertaking outcomes assessment at the course and program levels; and providing service to the College.
2. Librarians support student learning and faculty teaching and research through review and evaluation of library resources; collection building and management; patron assistance, education and instruction; promotion of information literacy; and management of all physical and electronic library resources. Librarians also provide service to the College.
3. The essential responsibility of counselors is to provide guidance of a mental health, financial and/or academic nature to students. Additionally, counselors offer health and wellness workshops, crisis intervention, life skills and career coaching, academic and behavioral interventions, and workshops/presentations on strategies for success. Counselors also support the College at large through service.
4. Service to the College includes, but is not limited to such activities as work on standing and ad hoc committees, curriculum and program creation, community/public service, research and discipline-specific service, professional outreach, participation on advisory boards, mentoring junior colleagues, and student recruitment.

The College and the Federation will continue to seek improvement in the professional development of the faculty through encouraging and supporting, insofar as possible, conferences, workshops, graduate study, experience, and other methods of professional development toward the improvement of teaching and new approaches to curriculum.

1. Temporary Appointments
 - a. The rank of Lecturer shall mean an appointed, non-tenure track member of the full-time faculty who shall serve for a term no longer than four (4) consecutive semesters. If the lecturer is subsequently hired as a full-time tenure track faculty member, one-

- b. Temporary part-time appointments may be made without any restrictions at all times.
 - c. Faculty on a temporary appointment are evaluated on an annual basis by their supervisor consistent with RTP.
2. Term Appointments
- a. The decision of the Board to reappoint or not to reappoint persons with term appointments, when such reappointment would not confer tenure, shall be communicated in writing to the person affected not later than March 31 preceding the expiration of the first full year of service and not later than the last day of February of each succeeding year. In the event that persons covered by this provision are not advised of their renewal status on the dates indicated above, or are not provided with reasons as to why such notice is being delayed for a reasonable period, their services shall be presumed to have been retained. Nothing herein, however, is to be construed as precluding reasonable delays or even changes in such determinations due to budget uncertainties, unforeseen budget cancellations and impairment.
 - b. The decision of the Board to reappoint with tenure or not to reappoint for the sixth full year shall be communicated in writing to the person affected not later than March 31 preceding the expiration of the fifth full year of service. However, during the fifth consecutive term appointment failure to notify members of the faculty of non-renewal by the dates specified in this section shall not serve to automatically grant tenure to such members nor shall it automatically indicate non-appointment for tenure.
 - c. Grievances relating to notification under the terms of this Article shall address themselves only to the timeliness of notification and shall begin at the second stage of the Grievance Procedure as outlined in Article 28.
3. Continuing Appointments
- a. Once tenured, faculty are on continuing appointment as described in Article 3 Section 6.

Article XV Program and Workload

1. The Chief Academic Officer shall approve the programs and teaching assignments of the full-time faculty after consultation with the Division Chair/School Dean of the respective departments. Program and teaching assignments shall be governed by seniority within departments in areas of competence with the proviso that full-time faculty will have loads selected by June 30 for the Fall term and December 30 for the Spring term. After these dates no full-time faculty member may bump another full-time faculty member.
2. Commencing with the 1999-2000 academic year the weekly workload for full-time teaching faculty shall be up to fifteen (15) contact hours per week per semester to a maximum total of thirty (30) contact hours for the Fall and Spring semesters combined. At the request of a faculty member and with the recommendation of the department coordinator, the Chief Academic Officer may approve a Fall semester workload of up to 18 contact hours per week. This will result in a relative reduction of load to no less than 12 contact hours for the Spring semester. The Fall assignment will not prevent the college from assigning the required contact hours in the Spring to equal a total of 30 contact hours for the Fall and Spring semesters. Faculty may not carry over or bank overload hours for use beyond the succeeding semester.

- a. The number of preparations shall be kept to a minimum each semester and ordinarily preparations shall not exceed 3 per semester.

The maximum combination of hours in any "ten week module" shall be up to a maximum of twenty (20) contact hours. Schedules shall be arranged so that there is no more than seven (7) hours from the start of the first class to the end of the last class in a day. No one shall be required to teach more than four (4) hours without a lunch break of at least thirty (30) minutes.
 - e. Class hours shall be during the regular day division hours, except that Article 15 Section 6 shall be applicable if a faculty member's workload falls below an accumulated total of fourteen (14) contact hours in any semester. If the hours in any "ten week module" go above eighteen (18) contact hours, office hours as set forth in Article 24 Section 1 for the "ten week module" shall be waived.
 - f. The CAO or designee will endeavor to achieve a norm of 30 students per class at the end of the drop/add period or one (1) week after the commencement of classes.

A faculty member can teach up to a total of four online, hybrid and/or flex start courses, two online, hybrid and/or flex start courses as part of "load" and two online, hybrid and/or flex start courses as part of "overload" in both the Fall and Spring semesters. Courses in the second flex start "session" in both Fall and Spring semester can only be

- used toward overload. [From MOU dated 5/1/18.]
9. So as to not inconvenience or disrupt the learning of students who are enrolled in online courses when their instructor goes on leave with a temporary disability, either for a complete or partial semester, a full-time, tenure-track faculty member shall be allowed to teach their online courses only, if those courses are part of their load as overload during the time they are on leave. This does not apply to their full-time load, nor does it apply to any other courses that are not online that may also be part of their overload at the time they go on leave. [From MOU dated 5/20/18.]
 10. Faculty are not permitted release time, unless approved by the President as recommended by the Chief Academic Officer.

Teaching Faculty who work during July and August in connection with new student advisement or placement testing shall be paid at the rate of at least $17.50 per hour. This clause in no way diminishes the impact of Article 24 Section 1.

2. In computing consecutive years of service for the purpose of this Article, leaves of absences without pay, extended leaves pursuant to Article 21 Section 3 and periods of less than full-time service shall not be included, but shall not be deemed an interruption of otherwise consecutive service.
3. Granting such tenure shall be subject to the following:
 - a. Under exceptional circumstances the Board of Trustees may grant early tenure upon the recommendation of the President or designee, when such action would be clearly advantageous to the college. The President or designee shall review prior teaching experience, and/or other appropriate experience and the recommendations of the RTP Committees for the purpose of determining whether early granting of tenure would be beneficial to the College.

Article XVII Promotion and Rank

1. The matter of Retention, Tenure and Promotion is within the realm of concern of the Faculty Senate unless otherwise specifically stated in this contract.
2. Rockland Community College is mindful of the distribution of ranks as suggested by the Standards for Two-Year Community College under the Program of the State University of New York.
3. Rank as determined by the Board of Trustees shall accompany each person's contract letter.

Article XVIII Procedures for Performance Improvement

It is in the best interests of the Federation and the College to assist faculty in achieving excellence in the performance of their duties and responsibilities. The following section provides a process to support performance improvement that is intended to prevent recurrences of undesirable employee behavior and/or performance issues and to avoid sanctions that could culminate in dismissal.

1. There are four steps to the performance improvement process as follows. The employee has the right to representation at each stage of the process.

Corrective Action Plan (CAP)

Procedure:

Verbal Counseling. The appropriate supervisor, upon recognition of a performance concern, shall schedule a meeting to informally discuss the concerns with the unit member. The supervisor should clearly describe performance expectations and provide guidance with the goal of resolving the issue(s) of concern within 6 months.

Written Warning. Should the performance concerns continue to persist, such that the appropriate supervisor is compelled to meet with the unit member more than three times within an 18-month period, the appropriate supervisor shall issue a written warning/memorandum for the record.

Counseling Session and Corrective Action Plan (CAP). If the written warning does not correct the issue, the appropriate supervisor shall schedule a counseling session with the Human Resources Department, attended by the unit member and their union representative. The supervisor will create a CAP with input from Human Resources, the union and the unit member, detailing expected corrective actions along with a timeline for their satisfactory completion, not to exceed 6-9 months. All parties present shall sign the CAP. If the unit member wishes to comment, they shall have five (5) business days to attach a written response. A copy of the CAP shall be kept in the employee's personnel file and shall be provided to the unit member and the Federation, with the original retained by the supervisor.

Review and Letter of Reprimand. At the conclusion of the timeline to the CAP, the appropriate supervisor will convene a follow-up counseling session to discuss the outcomes of the CAP. If the appropriate supervisor does not believe that the outcomes of the CAP have been met and corrective action has not occurred, the appropriate supervisor shall issue a letter of reprimand to the unit member, addressing the concerns and lack of improvement. At this point the appropriate supervisor shall inform the unit member that they have a final time period not to exceed four (4) months, to remedy any outstanding items in the CAP. At the conclusion of the extension of the CAP, the appropriate supervisor will convene a final counseling session to discuss the outcomes of the CAP. If the appropriate supervisor believes that the outcomes of the CAP have not been met and corrective action has not occurred, the appropriate supervisor may recommend moving to termination for cause as outlined below.

Appeal Process. If the disposition is not to the satisfaction of the unit member, they can appeal to an arbitrator as set forth in the grievance procedure.

Article XIX Termination

1. Termination for Physical or Mental Incapacity - Members of the faculty may be retired and their services terminated by the Board of Trustees or the President or designee as their designee, after receipt of the recommendation of the President or designee and upon medical advice, for mental or physical incapacity, which prevents such person from adequately performing their duties.
2. Termination for Cause
 - a. Grounds - The services of members of the faculty other than those holding temporary appointments may be terminated at any time for cause, which shall consist of inadequate performance of duties or misconduct, after such notice and opportunity to - be heard as are provided by this section.

- b. Notice - When the President or designee has information or received a complaint against a member of such faculty containing allegations which, if true, might serve as grounds for dismissal for cause, and the President or designee deems such information or complaint to merit investigation, the President or designee shall inform the employee with a detailed written statement describing the cause requiring investigation. They shall further be informed of their rights under this procedure by receiving a copy of these procedures and the Grievance procedure.
 - c. Investigation - The charge(s) against the employee shall be reviewed by the Union/Administration Disciplinary Committee consisting of three individuals-- one member selected by the Union, and two members selected by the Administration. The committee shall promptly investigate the matter by interviewing all concerned parties and conducting a hearing if necessary. After this investigation/hearing the committee shall make a recommendation to the President or designee for disposition of the issue. If the disposition is not to the satisfaction of the employee, they can appeal to an arbitrator as set forth in the grievance procedure of the collective bargaining agreement. An employee's election to pursue arbitration under this Article shall constitute an affirmative waiver of any and all rights to proceed under the New York State Education Law, New York State Civil Service Law, and/or any and all other Federal or State statutes governing the dismissal of employees.
 - d. Suspension - If the President or designee deems it to be for the best interest of the College, a person upon whom charges have been served may be suspended by the President or designee, with or without salary, pending final action upon such charges. If a person against whom charges have been served may be suspended without salary and subsequently is reinstated to their position and no disciplinary action against them is taken, they shall be paid the salary which they otherwise would have received during the period of such suspension.

The College will make a good faith effort to exercise the progressive nature of the Procedures for Performance Improvement before seeking termination for cause. However, the College reserves the right to proceed immediately to termination for cause depending on the nature and circumstances of the alleged offense.

3. Termination in Event of Program Retrenchment - The services of any member of the faculty may be terminated in the event of a program retrenchment. In such cases the employment of the least senior member in the department in areas of their competence, defined as initial instructional discipline(s), or in the area involved in areas of their competence shall be terminated. If the person whose position is terminated is tenured, they shall be placed upon a preferred eligibility list for two years in that position as established in that rank. If this person is rehired, their rank and salary shall be as if their service had been continuous. Seniority shall be determined by years in service. If years in service are equal, seniority shall be determined by rank.

Article XX Leave Without Pay
